Nipah Virus THREAT

Health Officers gear up; 10 beds in each hospital reserved for emergency

Mysuru, May 22 (RK&BCT)- The District Administration is on high alert for the Nipah virus (NiV) that has caused the death of over 10 people in Kerala. Given the proximity of Mysuru and Kerala where thousands of people travel via Bandipur, H.D. Kote, and Manandawadi every day, the administration is taking no chances and a Rapid Response Team has been formed to tackle the deadly disease.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, District Surgeon and In-charge District Health Officer Dr. N. Pashupathi said that they have issued directions to hospitals and nursing homes.

He said that Nipah virus infection can occur in humans or animals. Fruit bats and pigs are natural carriers of the disease. The first major outbreak of NiV was in 1998 that left more than 100 people dead in Malaysia where domesticated pigs were the disease hosts. In 2001, the first outbreak occurred in India in West Bengal and was attributed solely to fruit bats.

Direct contact with infected pigs, other infected animals, or through contaminated fruits (half-eaten fruits left by fruit bats), and even direct contact with sick persons have been cited as the underlying cause of outbreaks. The saliva and urine of bats are potential carriers of the NiV, Dr. Pashupathi said.

Both animal-to-human and human-to-human transmission have been documented.

"We have asked all hospitals in Mysuru to reserve at least 10 beds with an easy connectivity to ICUs to meet any emergencies. This is being done at all hospitals. Also, we have directed cut fruit sellers and juice centres not to use damaged and blackened fruits as there are chances of bats having eaten the fruit. We have ordered them to use clean fruits that do not have any markings or teeth marks on their outer skin," he said.

The incubation period for the virus ranges from 5 to 14 days and symptoms become visible after this period. Symptoms include fever, headache, fainting and nausea. In some cases, symptoms like choking, stomach pain, vomiting, fatigue and blurred vision could also be there. The patient can possibly go into a coma just two days after the symptoms begin. The chance of contracting encephalitis that affects the brain is also high.

Bare-foot Oath !

- H.D. Kumaraswamy follows astrologer's advice
- Swearing-in tomorrow at 4.30 pm

Bengaluru, May 22 (KMS& BCT)- JD(S) State President H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) will take oath as Chief Minister of Karnataka tomorrow (May 23) at 4.30 pm on the steps of Vidhana Soudha, the State Secretariat. Governor Vajubhai R. Vala will administer the oath of office and secrecy to Kumaraswamy.

Kumaraswamy

The swearing-in ceremony is all set to be a show of strength by the opposition as leaders from 22 States are expected to be present. Five Chief Ministers — Mamata Banerjee (West Bengal), Pinarayi Vijayan (Kerala), N. Chandrababu Naidu (Andhra Pradesh), K. Chandrashekhar Rao (Telangana) and Arvind Kejriwal (Delhi) — are expected to attend the grand event.

Among others, CPI(M) General Secretary Sitaram Yechury, who took a lead role in cementing ties between the Congress and JD(S), Tejashwi Yadav, son of RJD Chief Lalu Prasad Yadav, actor-turned-politician Kamal Haasan, DMK Chief M.K. Stalin are also likely to attend the swearing in ceremony. Samajwadi Party leader Akhilesh Yadav, Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) Chief Mayawati, CPI's Sudhakar Reddy and D. Raja are also expected to attend.

HDK will be sworn-in as Chief Minister for the second time in 12 years and the JD(S)-Congress combine will be returning to power in Karnataka after more than a decade as in 2006, the JD(S) had walked out of the alliance and joined hands with the BJP.

Soudha steps all set for coronation

The swearing-in ceremony will be held on the flight of stairs of the Vidhana Soudha and a huge stage is being erected for the purpose. According to sources, a special silk shirt and dhoti have been purchased for Kumaraswamy. He will be taking oath bare-footed following advice by astrologers.

A puja was held in front of Vidhana Soudha by a priest before the stage was erected yesterday. Arrangements have been made to accommodate one lakh chairs on the road between Vidhana Soudha and High Court. There will be a separate enclosure with 3,000 seats for VIPs. Prior to the oath-taking, HDK will offer worship at Chamundeshwari temple atop the Hill in Mysuru tomorrow morning.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY ON YELWAL ROAD

Criminals falsely accuse driver of causing accident, ask him to pay up

Mysuru, May 22 (RK&BCT)- A person who was travelling in a car from Kodagu to Bengaluru was waylaid, threatened, pushed around and robbed of cash and a mobile phone at the Yelwal Bypass Road that connects Srirangapatna last evening at around 4.30 pm. No Police complaint has been filed as the victim is shaken by the incident and he was in a hurry to go to Bengaluru.

According to the victim K.A. Praveen, a resident of Ponnampet in South Kodagu, he was travelling from his house to Bengaluru in his car (KA-12-N-3714) last evening and reached the Yelwal Bypass Road at around 4 pm.

"As I approached the bypass and proceeded towards Bengaluru, two persons riding a motorcycle overtook my car and signalled me to stop. The person who was riding pillion was waving his hand vigorously and was shouting at me in a foul language. Taken aback by this, I stopped my car by the side of the road," Praveen told Star of Mysore this morning.

Moulding medical practitioners

The country's steadily expanding human population, establishment of medical education institutions adding to their existing number across the nation, increasing the intake of students in medical colleges both for under-graduate and post-graduate courses, cost of medical education both in government-managed and private institutions, output of medicines and diagnostic devices by indigenous pharmaceutical industry, and last but not the least, the growing number of commonly known as well as newly emerging diseases and the headcount of their victims and so on are keeping pace in a disturbing mutual proportion, resulting in a yawning gap between the number of suffering sections and extent to which action is needed to alleviate the suffering. Quantitative information portraying every aforementioned component of the country's healthcare space is being flashed regularly in the media that lay people don't feel concerned. The quality of service by medical practitioners at large has just now come under the scanner.

While the rustics, given their weak economic state and greater vulnerability to diseases are nowhere near the urban counterparts in the matter of access to medical attention of whatever quality, the initiative of raising the presence of doctors in villages, such as taken by Government of Karnataka several times in recent years has not yielded the expected result. Un-prepardness of medical graduates to take residence in and serve the villages has reasons not far to seek.

The curriculum being followed in medical colleges for under-graduate course of five-plus years duration leading to MBBS degree, said to be unchanged for about 30 years, has come to be realised as grossly inadequate to launch the graduates into the medical profession at currently accepted norms and standards, compelling the graduates to further their education and training at post-graduate levels, not to forget the narrow specialisations in the medical profession as well as the cost associated with post-graduate medical education across the country. Common sense compels us not to wonder at the steep rise in cost of medical services at hi-tech hospitals and consultancy charges to be paid to the doctors with their specialisations. The points don't need to be laboured upon.

In the backdrop of the foregoing scenario of the country's healthcare sector, the news published in a section of the press last week, namely, Union Health Ministry's expected notification on the new curriculum "Competency-based Integrated Curriculum for Under-graduate Medical Education" augurs well both for the students and later to their patients.

DIFFICULT AFTER DIVORCE: Friends turned foes can prove to be difficult. Consider the recently concluded Karnataka Assembly elections. Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N. Chandrababu Naidu, after his party's bitter divorce with the Narendra Modi government, appealed to Telugu voters in Karnataka to vote against the Bharatiya Janata Party. After the counting on Tuesday, the Telugu Desam Party shared its "analysis" of how Naidu's appeal ensured the BJP's defeat in Constituencies with significant Telugu population. Of the 46 Constituencies with more than 50,000 Telugu voters, the BJP could win only five, while the Congress won 32 and Janata Dal (Secular) nine. "The BJP and the Modi Government denied special category status to AP which hurt the sentiments of the Telugu people," a TDP spokesperson said. — In Business Standard.

Eggs hatch in moving trucks

Beijing: A video doing the rounds on Chinese social media shows chicks hatching in the back of a truck stacked with egg cartons while driving around on a very hot day.

The video shows a truck carrying dozens of egg cartons, and chicks literally hatching from the eggs as it's driving along. It's only a few seconds long, but you can clearly see at least five hatched chicks, as well as some tiny feet breaking through the egg shells and some empty shells.

Southeastern China has been experiencing some unusually hot weather for this time of year, but hot enough to cause chicken eggs to hatch without incubation? That's too much.

Impeccable blind skateboarder

Santiago: Blind people can still lead normal lives, but one would imagine that riding a skateboard isn't one of them. Well, this 20-year-old blind skateboarder proves otherwise.

Known as The Blind Rider, Marcelo Lusardi lost his sight completely two years ago. He went into depression, as he couldn't even imagine living without sight. Luckily, a friend of his father's stepped in and helped him.

Marcelo Lusardi began going to the skate park but this time, he had to use a cane just to find his way to the park. He found the strength but learned the hard way that skating blind was completely different.

With the help of his friends and learning to use his other senses, Marcelo Lusardi not only learned to skateboard again, but also execute tricks that not many people, even those with perfect vision, can do. The skate park he has visited since he was 11-years-old is the best place to practice new tricks, he can do them in other places as long as he inspects the course beforehand.

Hindi Research Scholars undergo training at NTS-I

Mysuru, May 22- A five-day training-cum-workshop on Testing & Evaluation and Item Writing for the Hindi Research Scholars of the country began at National Testing Service-India (NTS-I) of Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL), here on Monday.

Pankaj Dwivedi, Officer Incharge of NTS-I, in his inaugural address, introduced the academic activities of CIIL and of its various projects/schemes and emphasised on the importance of testing and evaluation process in the area of language education. He added that there is dire need for language teachers and educationists to work together when it comes to designing language learning curriculum, language teaching materials, assessment programmes, professional or academic tests, examination, etc. Only then, a balance between teaching, learning and assessment may be struck, he added.

Continuing, he said, unless language teaching materials are customised subject to the need of the learners, desirable learning proficiency may not be obtained, he felt.

Dr. Sanjay Prasad Srivastava, Junior Resource Person-Academic, welcomed. Prof. R.P. Saxena, former Professor of Linguistics, Nagpur University, Maharashtra; Prof. KVVL Narasimha Rao and Prof. N. Nadaraja Pillai, both formerly of CIIL; Prof. C.G. Venkatesh Murthy, RIE, Mysuru; and NTS-I faculty Dr. Sanjay Prasad Srivastava, Dr. Narayana Reddy, Ancy Thomas, K.S. Raghavan, Hayath Afza and K. Lepakshi were also present. External experts together with NTS-I team will train the participants.

Thirty-five Research Scholars, who are engaged in teaching/research of Hindi, from various Universities and Colleges of India are participating in this training workshop conducted under the supervision of Prof. P.R. Dharmesh Fernandez and Pankaj Dwivedi, Officer-in-charge, NTS-I. Prof. D. G. Rao, Director, CIIL, Mysuru, is the overall patron of the workshop.

Parking fee menace at Sangama, Srirangapatna

Sir,

If I may recall, the then Mandya DC Dr. Ajay Nagabhushan had abolished the parking fee at Sangama following several complaints of harassment and over-charging. Every one heaved a sigh of relief, particularly those who went there to immerse the ashes of their dear departed ones.

Recently I went to Srirangapatna to perform the rituals of my brother and lo, the nuisance is back with a bang. No board prescribing the fee for parking and no facility at all to park. When asked, the person produced a notification by the Municipality of Srirangapatna, naming some contractor and awarding parking fee collection for a total sum from 1.1.2018 till 31.12.2018. The booth does not have the name board nor the ticket carries the name mentioned in the notification. Against the name of the operator, the ticket for Rs. 50 per car, only shows AAA. Any question to the booth person is rebuffed with high decibel. At first the person issued a ticket without the vehicle number but when insisted, he gave a second ticket with only a part of vehicle number, thereby confirming that there is no control on the money to be collected and its proper accounting.

A hand-held ticket issuing machine is all that the person had to convince that the parking fee collection is legal and official. Why don't the authorities insist on a proper board displaying the parking fee and the duration of the contract as also the name of the contractor? Will the authorities concerned clarify on reintroducing the parking fee?

HDK meets Rahul, Sonia, Mayawati; discusses Government formation

New Delhi, May 22 (KMS& BCT)- Fast-pacing the process of Cabinet formation in Karnataka, the Chief Minister-designate H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) yesterday met Congress President Rahul Gandhi and his mother and UPA Chairperson Sonia Gandhi and got their clearance. Kumaraswamy touched Sonia Gandhi's feet in a gesture of gratitude for supporting the JD(S).

Kumaraswamy said that both Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi will attend the swearing-in ceremony tomorrow. At the meeting with the Gandhis, though the leaders did not go into the nitty-gritty of government formation, Rahul asked Kumaraswamy to leave the post of the Speaker for the Congress. Kumaraswamy gave his consent.

"I wanted to show my respect and regards to Gandhi family. I requested them for attending the oath-taking ceremony on Wednesday. Both of them agreed to be present," Kumaraswamy said. He further said: "It was a good meeting. Rahul cleared the initial modalities and asked Venugopal to discuss all the concerned matters," he said.

After interacting with Kumaraswamy, Congress President Rahul Gandhi tweeted, "I had a warm and cordial meeting this evening, in Delhi, with Kumaraswamy. We discussed the political situation in Karnataka and other matters of mutual interest."

"I will be attending his swearing-in as the CM of Karnataka, on Wednesday, in Bengaluru," Gandhi wrote in the micro blogging site confirming his attendance at the oath-taking ceremony.

Earlier in the day, Kumaraswamy also met BSP Supremo Mayawati in Delhi as her party is a pre-poll alliance partner with JD(S).

No differences of opinion: HDK

In Hassan, Kumaraswamy said that his party, the JD(S), had no differences of opinion with coalition partner Congress over distribution of portfolios. "The issue is created by a section of the media. I have been following the hate messages spreading on social media. I will give them an answer in a few days," he said.

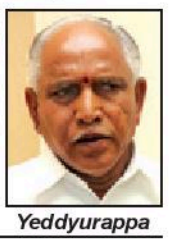
He was speaking to reporters before visiting several temples in his home district and offering special puja to the deities, along with his family members. "Managing the Chief Minister's post is a challenge. I will discuss the issues with the leaders about the functioning of the Government. I will resolve the people's problems," Kumaraswamy said.

He said, he will take all Congress leaders into confidence to ensure a stable Government.

Responding to BJP MLA B. Sriramulu's statement that he will give sleepless nights to JD(S) and Congress leaders, Kumaraswamy said, "Neither Sriramulu, nor BJP, can take away our sleep. I will make them spend sleepless nights," Kumaraswamy said.

Shah justifies forming Yeddyurappa Govt.

Amit Shah



Yeddyurappa

New Delhi, May 22 (UNI)- Embarrassed by the fiasco in Karnataka, BJP President Amit Shah yesterday tried to put up a brave face and said the saffron party was in its legitimate right to stake claim for Government formation as people's mandate was clearly against the Congress.

''We staked claim for Government formation as the single largest party because the mandate was against the Congress and we expected JD(S), which also sought vote against the Congress, to support us,'' Shah told reporters at the party headquarters here. "If we had not staked claim to form a Government, it would have been against the mandate of Karnataka people," he added.

"This is not a confused mandate as is being portrayed. It is a decidedly anti-Congress vote. That is why we say that the Congress has entered into an unholy alliance with the JD(S). The Congress has found a new way of portraying defeats as victory, portrayals which have nothing to do with the ground reality."

The BJP Chief wondered what was Congress was really celebrating as its numbers dropped from 122 to 78. Similarly, he said, JD(S) was rejoicing its victory in only 37 seats. "Only Congress and JD(S) are celebrating — people of Karnataka are not," Shah added.

Refusing to speculate on how long the coalition would last, Shah said, "Kumaraswamy has a lot of faith in astrologers. I also believe in them, but feel that democratic processes have their own time and pace."

To a question, he said there was nothing wrong in staking claim for Government formation and the BJP would have sailed through trial of strength had not Congress put their MLAs ''locked'' in a hotel.

''Had these MLAs got in touch with their own people or even staged victory march, the common people would have asked them to vote in favour of the BJP," he said.

Shah also maintained that drawing parallelism between Karnataka and Government formation in Manipur and Goa would not be fair as in Manipur and Goa, Congress never staked claim.

'Siddharamaiah's attitude was unbecoming of a CM'

BJP party candidate from South West Teachers Constituency, Ayanur Manjunath (third from right), filing his nomination for the Legislative Council Poll at the Regional Commissioner's office in city yesterday in the presence senior BJP leader K.S. Eshwarappa and others.

Mysuru, May 22 (PM&DM)- Accusing former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah of displaying an attitude that was unbecoming of a Chief Minister, senior BJP leader K.S. Eshwarappa has said now that Siddharamaiah has lost power, his (Siddu) attitude may change for the better.

Speaking to press persons on the sidelines of the Regional Commissioner's office here yesterday where party candidate Ayanur Manjunath had filed his nomination for the Legislative Council Poll from South West Teachers constituency, Eshwarappa observed that just as infants born with multiple deformities do not survive for long, the Congress-JD(S) coalition Government too will not last.

Accusing the Congress of riding piggy back on JD(S), which managed to bag just 38 seats, Eshwarappa regretted that the BJP which was the single largest party, lost in the game of numbers.

Dismissing reports of 'Operation Kamala' to poach Congress and JD(S) MLAs, the BJP leader said that the party was open to anyone who supports the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

RAIN HAVOC

Passenger killed as tree falls on auto

The deceased girl from Chennai was visiting a friend in city

The mangled auto in which the deceased Revathi was travelling last evening along with her friend. Picture right shows the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Abhaya staff clearing the uprooted tree on Vishwamanava Double Road.

Mysuru, May 22 (SBD&KS)- The rain and gusty winds that created havoc in city since the past three days by uprooting many trees apart from causing damage to properties has claimed a life yesterday.

The unfortunate victim has been identified as Solarai Revathi (25), a native of Tamil Nadu and an employee of Infosys in Chennai.

Revathi had come to Mysuru to visit her friend Vasavi Gupta during the weekend and after visiting her, the friends left in an autorickshaw from Sankranti Circle in Hebbal to the City Railway Station last evening to catch Cauvery Express which departs at 8.30 pm.

When the auto neared ESI Hospital, a tree got uprooted due to strong wind and fell on the auto resulting in Revathi suffering severe injuries on the right side of her head while the auto driver and her friend Vasavi suffered minor injuries.

The public, who saw the auto driver and the girls trapped inside the vehicle, pulled them out and rushed the unconscious Revathi to the nearby Aditya Hospital in Gokulam. The doctors, however, informed that the girl had died midway.

It is learnt that a City Bus was following the ill-fated auto and the alert bus driver, who saw the tree falling, applied brakes thus averting a major mishap.

Following the tree fall, traffic was disrupted for a couple of hours on the busy KRS Road.

V.V. Puram Traffic Police, who rushed to the spot, diverted the traffic to the other side of the double road.

Tree fall continues

Apart from the tree falling near ESI Hospital on KRS Road, trees were also uprooted on Vishwamanava Double Road in Saraswathipuram, Thyagaraja Road, near Surya Bakery in Hebbal, Srirampura 2nd Stage and other places.

The MCC Abhaya team, which sprung into swift action, cleared the trees and made way for the motorists. Luckily, no fatalities or loss of property were reported in these areas.

Who is responsible for loss of life?

In the wake of yesterday's rain tragedy, the irate members of the public have sought to know whom to hold responsible for the loss of precious life. They alleged that though the roadside trees look strong, healthy and green, they fall due to small velocity of wind. Reason: The roots become weak and lose their grip as they are covered with tar without leaving space for the roots to breathe during asphalting of roads.

Terming this type of asphalting as murder of trees, the public hope that the authorities concerned would take this into consideration and leave sufficient space for water and air to reach the roots when they take up asphalting works in future.

This apart, the authorities should also identify weak branches and cut them (not the trees) before they fall due to wind, they opined.

On Sunday, City recorded 7.1 mm rains, T. Narsipur-7.7 mm, K.R. Nagar- 4.9 mm, H.D. Kote-3.6 mm, Periyapatna- 2.1 mm.

No 15 days to purchase majority!

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

The juggernaut needs to be stopped because it is splitting people along communal lines and institutionalising a culture of everyday violence in the name of what people should eat, say, study and think. India is too diverse a society to survive as a monolithic entity.

Here is what the Buddha said about Karnataka elections:

"There are many difficulties to overcome in this world. It is hard for a proud man to learn the way of enlightenment. It is hard not to argue about right and wrong. It is hard to find a good method. It is hard to keep the mind pure against the instincts of the body. It is hard not to desire beautiful things. It is hard for a strong man not to use his strength to satisfy his desires."

The Strong Man heading The Strong Party used all his strength to make things move his way. There were serial IT raids on "Congress moneybags," even a last-minute raid on a resort in Badami where Congressmen heading Siddharamaiah's campaign were lodged. The Central Government's partisan role reached an absurd limit when Congress MLAs headed for Kochi found that civil aviation authorities would not permit their flight to take off. How childish can arrogance get.

Misuse of power is a badge of the arrogant. Here is what the Vishnu Purana said about Karnataka elections:

"And then there will be a decline in prosperity and dharma and the whole earth shall slowly perish. The one who has wealth shall rule. The one who wears a false mask shall be honoured. The one who is greedy shall be king. And weary of misrule, the people shall hide in dark caves and wait for their days of misery to end."

The ones who had wealth have been ruling in solitary splendour since the demonetisation of the beloved rupee. It enabled them to wear a false mask and win honours. They became kings who ruled over the dispensers of justice as well. But the men of justice, reared in a different kind of discipline, had a tendency to show their mettle now and again.

It was left to them to expose Karnataka's RSS Governor. The man had ignored his oath to the Constitution and given the BJP, the party without a majority, an unheard-of 15 days to purchase a majority. That was 15 days to buy and sell horses; 15 days for Central Government agencies to raid and intimidate MLAs; 15 days to flaunt Rs.100-crore baits (or was it 200 crore?) The farce decreed by the gubernotorious swayam sevak made the men of justice go into action. They decreed that the party with no majority must test the floor in two days instead of 15. That turned out to be the decisive factor in what was becoming a travesty of electoral democracy in Karnataka; it stopped the politicians from playing a cheating game.

There were missing MLAs, absconding MLAs, double-crossing MLAs. And then there were MLAs who were discovered, MLAs who were retrieved, MLAs who were captured. Here is what Kautilya said about Karnataka elections:

"Just as fish moving inside water cannot be seen drinking water, so officers of the State [politicians] cannot be seen appropriating money. It is possible to know the paths of birds in the sky, but not the ways of [politicians] with their intentions concealed. A wise king should guard others from others, his own people from his own people, his own people from others, and others from his own people, and always guard himself from his own people and from others."

Now that people are kings, how do we guard ourselves from our own people and from others? Some imperatives arise from factors which now stand proved by the dramatic twists in Karnataka.

1. The BJP juggernaut is not unstoppable.

2. The juggernaut needs to be stopped because it is splitting people along communal lines and institutionalising a culture of everyday violence in the name of what people should eat, say, study and think. India is too diverse a society to survive as a monolithic entity.

3. The Congress has neither the leadership nor the infrastructure to stand on its own legs.

4. A combination of regional parties and the Congress is the way forward. The Congress-JD(S) union that has gained traction in Karnataka must expand and multiply across the country, with common development programmes that will avoid politics of hatred and intimidation.

5. And for starters, can we bring the institutions that have sustained our democracy back to their wonted glory — the judiciary, the civil service, the CBI, the Election Commission?

Steps like these would start giving hope to the people hiding in dark caves waiting for their days of misery to end.

Meanwhile, Jai Hind!

Kuppanna Park Glass House to be ready for this Dasara

Mysuru, May 22 (BCT&RKB)- The Glass House at Kuppanna Park, which was to be ready early this year, will finally be ready for Dasara-2018. It has been under construction for almost over a year on the lines of the one at Lalbagh in Bengaluru. Once completed, the Glass House will be a landmark and there will be no opportunity for the people to complain that Mysuru has no Glass House like the State capital.

Workers are giving finishing touches to the landmark structure near the Hardinge Circle (now Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Statue Circle) and works are on the finer aspects to make the structure a people-friendly and a visually-appealing one. The entire structure has been built using high-quality and tempered glass and has been designed in such a way that it can stand the vagaries of nature.

GLASS HOUSE, A HOT HOUSE

A Glass House, generally known as Green House or Hot House, is a space wherein plants can be grown throughout the year giving it required amount of heat and temperature. The house with glass roofs and panes will trap heat and also have additional vents to let out excess heat.

Kuppanna Park is also called Nishad Bagh where the annual Dasara Flower Show is organised. In his 2015-16 Budget, the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, who also held the Finance portfolio, had allocated Rs. 6 crore for the Glass House. The foundation stone was laid on Jan. 22, 2017.

Spread over 12 acres, Kuppanna Park was handed over to the Horticulture Department by the Mysuru City Corporation for maintenance. The vast surroundings of the Park have enabled the Department to add more attractions to the park including the musical fountain and the Glass House.

The vast Glass House constructed 1.5 metre above the ground spans 2,419 square metres including corridor and is round in shape with a diameter of 36 meters and has four entry points. Its dome, based on the Indo-Saracenic style and Mysuru style, is 18 metres wide and has an outer wall of 6 metres.

SOLAR-TEMPERED GLASS

Solar-tempered 13.5 mm thick Saint-Gobain glass panes are being used to make the structure and the glass has lower thermal absorption so as to keep the inner ambience cool and comfortable. The colourful interior lights would provide a grand illumination as night attraction for visitors.

This project was initially under the care of the Horticulture Department and it was handed over to Public Works Department, who with assistance from Nikitha Build-Tech Pvt. Ltd., are constructing the huge structure that will house varieties of plants.

The steel structure supporting the glass spreads to about 25,000 sq. feet and the steel structure itself weighs (without the glass) about 100 tonnes. The structure has special solar-tempered glass panes to trap heat and provide suitable condition for plant growth. Argo Facades, a manufacturing company related to structural glazing, structural glazing systems, aluminium double glazing sound proof system and glazing service was taking care of the construction works.

BEAUTIFICATION AND FINER DETAILS

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Thimmaraju, Assistant Director, Horticulture Department, Mysuru, said that the works will be completed within a month and the Glass House will be handed over to the Horticulture Department by the contractors. "Once the Glass House comes to us, the beautification works will begin and it will be a prime attraction for 2018 Dasara," he said.

Dismissing concerns about the safety of the glasses, he said that the glasses were brought to Mysuru in specific measurements and placed on pre-fixed framework. The panes are prepared by fusing two layers of toughened glasses which is of 6 mm thickness each, with a 1.52 mm fusion gap in between them. So, totally the thickness adds up to around 13.5 mm.

Thimmaraju said that the tempered glasses are tough in nature and have been cut, prepared and designed precisely to deliver highest quality and the two glass layers are sandwiched to give the final glass pane.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Special features of the Glass House include an exclusive platform for the physically challenged complete with a path for wheel chair. Electric and drainage pipelines inside the Glass House have been laid underground and have necessary outlets. Rain water harvesting facility is incorporated and water will be stored and reused. The solar facility at the park will be operational in the near future to provide source of energy to the lamps in the park.

Kuppanna Park, which was one of the tourist attracting spots for its Flower Shows and Musical Fountains, will reach a higher level once the Glass House is completed and will result in more tourist inflow and also ensure plant growth development and conservation of biodiversity.

President's rule would have been right

says former Chief Election Commissioner

Hyderabad, May 22- Imposition of President's Rule would have been the right thing to do in Karnataka, where Assembly elections threw up a hung verdict with no party getting absolute majority to form the government, former Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) T. S. Krishnamurthy said.

"If the government cannot be formed because of the situation in Karnataka, then the right thing would have been is to impose President's Rule," Krishnamurthy, who headed the Election Commission from February 2004 to May 2005, said.

Noting that none of the three parties, BJP, Congress and JD(S), has secured the majority, Krishnamurthy opined that Governor Vajubhai Rudabhai Vala should have imposed President's Rule for three months and if no government is formed within this time-frame, then recommend dissolution of the House and conduct fresh elections. "I am not saying President's Rule is the solution, but it could have avoided all this wastage of time, money, horse trading, bargaining for portfolios and things like that," he said.

On the first-past-the-post election system, where a candidate winning the highest number of votes is declared the winner, Krishnamurthy said it should be done away with. "First-past-the-post system should go, that has resulted in very undesirable consequences. People with 20-25% votes they get elected. Otherwise there will be loyalty to particular sectional interest like caste, creed or language whatever," he said.

"The best thing is to either introduce proportional system, where political parties get seats based on the percentage of votes they get, or insist on 33.33% vote to be polled by the winner in which case smaller sections will play a less role and there will be more loyalty towards the constituency," the former CEC suggested.

If no candidate gets at least 33.33% votes, then there should be re-election in that Constituency, Krishnamurthy said. "In many countries, 50%-plus-one-vote is insisted upon for winning. As a first step, 33.33% (votes for winning)...may be for the next five to 10 years and thereafter make it 50% so that political parties will not represent sectional interest," he added.

According to the former CEC, there should also be a separate law regulating the functioning of political parties. "And that law should also provide that once you are elected, you cannot be changing the party for the formation of the government".

The former CEC also called for a separate election fund and said corporates and individuals contributing to this fund should get 100% tax exemption. "That money will be used for elections so that there is no nexus between corporates and political parties", Krishnamurthy added.

Block Education Officers meeting in city tomorrow

Mysuru, May 22 (US)- District Education Regulatory Authority (DERA) headed by the Deputy Commissioner will hold a meeting of Block Education Officers (BEO) and heads of unaided private schools tomorrow at 10 am in Kalamandira here.

The meeting is said to focus on admission process in unaided private schools, stipulation of fees and compliance of Right to Education (RTE) Act.

The aforementioned participants from the district will participate in the meeting along with organisations involved in implementation of RTE Act.

Monsoon to arrive in Karnataka on June 5

Bengaluru, May 22- After months of scorching heat, the monsoon is set to arrive on June 5 in Karnataka. Rains are likely to arrive in Kerala on May 29, a few days earlier.

According to the Meteorological Department, the South-West Monsoon will be normal in the State this year. The Meteorological Department had earlier predicted rainfall between June and September to be 97 per cent and on Sunday, the officials have confirmed the same. In 2017, there was excess rainfall in South and North Karnataka with a deficit in coastal areas.

A detailed forecast is expected to be issued in the next few days. Currently, pre-monsoon showers are being observed over several parts of the State including Bengaluru and the pre-monsoon showers will stop ahead of the arrival of the monsoon.

Public schools to be set up in PU Colleges

Bengaluru, May 22 (KMS&DM)- In a big relief to thousands of parents, the Education Department will be setting up Karnataka Public Schools in Government PU Colleges of all the 176 taluks in the State.

With admissions in Government schools dipping with each passing year, the Department has come forward to impart quality education right from primary-level to high school under one roof. The Department has identified one PU College in every taluk for the initiative, which is all set to take off from this academic year itself.

Rural postal employees launch indefinite stir

Mysuru, May 22 (RKB&DM)- Seeking implementation of the recommendations of the Seventh Pay Commission (Kamleshchandra Committee Report), rural postal employees (Grameena Dak Sevaks), under the banner of All India Grameena Dak Sevaks Union (AIGDSU) began an indefinite stir in front of Yadavagiri Post Office at Akashavani Circle in city this morning.

Accusing the Union Government of sitting on Kamaleshchandra Committee Report, the Dak Sevaks demanded implementation of the recommendations of the Seventh Pay Commission, which has accorded several benefits to Dak Sevaks, who toil hand every day covering over a dozen villages travelling more than 50 kilometres.

Alleging discrimination in wages, they urged the Union Government to meet their just demand.

AIGUDSU office-bearers S.R. Somashekar, N.S. Ravichandra, Manchaiah, Rajkumar, Jaganath and others took part in the protest.

Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji is seen with the awardees during 'Chaitanya Archana' prog. at Nada Mantapa in Sri Ganapathy Ashrama premises in Dattanagar this morning.

Mysuru, May 22- As part of the ongoing festivities marking the 76th birthday of Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji, a function was organised at Nada Mantapa at Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashrama in Dattanagar here this morning titled Chaitanya Archana to confer Datta Peetha titles on achievers in various fields.

The title winners are V. Ganeshan, Tirupati (Veda Nidhi); S.N. Murthy, Sringeri (Shastra Nidhi); Vid. S. Shankar, Bengaluru (Nada Nidhi); Prabhakar Jogalekar, Ratnagiri (Asthana Vidwan), Ganti Dattatreya Shastry, Kanchipuram (Asthana Vidwan), Manda Sudharani, Vishakapatnam (Asthana Vidwan), Kamal Jain, Nepal (Vishwa Bandhu) Prajakta Kale, Pune (Sasya Bandhu) and Dr. T. Sarojini, Vijayawada, Andra Pradesh (Jayalakshmi award).

Speaking on the occasion, Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji opined that good contacts always evolved good works. He said that Chaitanya Archana was a divine job of identifying a dedicated achiever and honouring the person. He added that emotions should bind people.

Junior Pontiff Sri Datta Vijayananda Theertha Swamiji was present during the programme.

Soon, the bike riders accused Praveen of causing an accident near Yelwal and demanded money. Narrating his ordeal, he said: "They alleged that I had hit my car against a bike and they even claimed that one person was injured. They pushed me around despite telling them I was not at fault. I told them that we could go to the Police Station and solve the issue."

However, when Praveen insisted that they must go to the Police, the youth said that they can instead solve the issue there itself. "They told me that the person I allegedly injured was admitted to a hospital and demanded Rs.50,000. When I refused, they asked me to remove the gold bracelet and hand it over to them," Praveen said.

Meanwhile, two more persons came on another bike and all of them began arguing with Praveen. "They demanded money and even told me to take them to the ATM to withdraw cash. I refused to be cowed down and they asked me to settle the case by paying Rs.12,000. When I told them that I did not have that much cash, they snatched my purse and took away Rs.8,100. They also took away my mobile phone but returned the SIM card to me," he said.

Praveen revealed that both the bikes did not have number plates and the youth looked like thugs. "As I was shaken by the incident and had to rush to Bengaluru, I did not complain to the Police," he added.

Star of Mysore spoke to district Police officers and they said that the incident has not come to their notice. "If the victim lodges a complaint and even informs us, we will check the CCTV visuals at the time of the incident. As of now, we do not know what exactly has happened. The incident occurred in broad daylight and some stray criminal groups might be behind the crime. In the past, there have been some similar incidents on the city outskirts and we need more information on this particular case," a Police officer said.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT NIPAH VIRUS

• What is Nipah Virus?

Nipah virus was initially discovered when it caused an outbreak of brain fever among pig farmers in Malaysia.

• How does it spread?

It is transmitted from animal to person and person to person. There is no effective antiviral therapy for this infection.

• Who is at high risk?

People working with pigs and consuming pigs and people who come in contact with bats and bat-eaten fruits.

• Do fruits cause the spread?

Consuming fruits which are already bitten by bat is dangerous. Contact with people who already have Nipah virus infection can cause the spread.

• What are the symptoms?

Sudden onset of fever, headache, muscle pain, nausea and vomiting. Neck rigidity and photophobia are also seen.

• What are the deadly effects?

The disease rapidly progresses with deterioration in consciousness leading to coma within five to seven days.

• How is it diagnosed?

Diagnosis is by ELISA (Enzyme-Linked Immunosorbent Assay) which is currently done at National institute of Virology, Pune.

• How is it treated?

There is no approved specific therapy for this infection. So prevention is the only cure.

• How the disease can be prevented?

Avoid contact with pigs and pig handlers. Avoid consuming raw fruits, Consume only well cooked, clean, home-made food. Maintain personal hygiene and intensive hand washing practices.

Ashtamangala Prashne ritual begins at Talacauvery

Indiscriminate tourism spoiling the sanctity of the Holy place, reveals octagonal questioning ceremony

Madikeri, May 22 (PS&BCT)- A three-day Ashtamangala Prashne ritual began yesterday at Talacauvery under the guidance of A.V. Narayana Poduval and team of Payyanur in Kerala. The ritual is being held to find out solutions to problems, if any, in Talacauvery.

The octagonal questioning ceremony (Ashtamangala Prashne) was initiated on the day that marked the beginning of 'Tula Raashi' to ensure smooth functioning of the pilgrim centre. The religious ceremony started with Vamshith, a boy from Tannimani village, offering prayer to the astrological, octagonal sketch.

Prayers were offered to Dakshinamurthy, Cauvery and Agasthyeshwara in the north-east direction and the astrologer is said to have experienced a spiritual vibe during the prayers. The octagonal questioning will continue for another two days at the pilgrim centre before starting off with the religious, ritualistic puja offerings to river Cauvery.

During the Ashtamangala event, it was revealed that the sanctity of Talacauvery, the birthplace of River Cauvery, is being repeatedly violated by indiscriminate tourism. The centre has turned commercial with even rituals like "Tula Bhara" being used at the temple with the sole intention of making money.

The place has turned into a tourist attraction over the years rather than being a religious place, the Ashtamangala questioning revealed.

It was also revealed that though there are designated places for the tourists to sit, they sit in all places, even near the Holy Kundike, inside the temple complex, spoiling the sanctity of the temple. Also, women come to the place dressed inappropriately.

The Holy Kundike from where the river emerges must not be closed and must be left open for the sun's rays to penetrate. Also, the practice of the priests allowing devotees, especially VIPs, to stand around the Kundike for hours together must be stopped. Devotees must not be allowed near the Kundike and people must leave Talacauvery after sunset. All these practices that were strictly followed since ages are not being followed now, the Ashtamangala questioning revealed.

The main astrologer from Kerala A.V. Narayana Poduval was assisted by Mysuru lecturer M. Shyam Sundar Shastri, who translated the proceedings to Kannada. The puja was conducted by priest Prashanth Achar.

The octagonal questioning and predictions is usually conducted at Talacauvery once in every decade and the Talacauvery Bhagamandala Temple Committee President Biddatanda S. Thammaiah said that the last prediction was made when the temple was renovated, which was 12 years back.

"The Ashtamangala Brahmakalasha ceremony was conducted before starting religious offerings to the Goddess. It is a ritual to conduct this ceremony as it will guide us through any wrong doings at the pilgrim centre. She (Cauvery) is a lifeline to many people and it is the Committee's duty to maintain the sanctity of the place and see that all divine ceremonies are conducted in the right way," he added.

U-13 State Chess Championship

City's Hemadri emerges runner-up

Mysuru, May 22- Hemadri Sathish of Mysuru emerged runner-up in the U-13 Karnataka State Girls Chess Championship which was conducted at Vokkaligara Samudaya Bhavana in Shivamogga from May 17 to 19.

The 9 Round Swiss event, organised by Nalanda Chess Academy, Shivamogga, attracted 90 players from 13 districts for Rs.20,000 Prize Money.

Hemadri scored 7.5 points out of 9 rounds as she lost her 6th round to Sanjana Raghunath (1508 Rating) from Bengaluru who won the Championship by scoring 8 points out of possible 9.

Sanjana and Hemadri will be now representing Karnataka State in the forthcoming U-13 Nationals to be held at Ahmedabad (Gujarat) from June 14.

Hemadri, a 8th standard student of Christ the King Convent in Mysuru, is the daughter of Businessman Sathish and Jyothi. She is coached by S. Suresh of Mysore Chess Centre, Mysuru.

Cash Prize Winners

1. Sanjana Raghunath (Bengaluru; 1508 Rating) - 8; 2. Hemadri Sathish (Mysuru - 1380) - 7.5); 3. Swara Lakshmi S. Nair (Bengaluru - 1314) - 6.5; 4. Bhagyashree G. FIDE Rated Tournament

Nalanda Chess Academy, Shivamogga, had also organised the FIDE Rated U-13 Open Karnataka State Chess Championship Tournament at Vokkaligara Samudaya Bhavana in Shivamogga from May 17 to 19. The 9 Round Swiss event for players under the age of 13 years attracted 192 players from 13 different districts.

Out of 192 players, 70 were FIDE rated. Total Cash Prize for the Open Rated Tournament was Rs.50,000.

Bengaluru players Samith Reddy (1518 rating), Archan Chetan Anand (1630) and Tejas Suresh Kumar (1524) have scored 7.5 points at the end of 9 rounds but Samith Reddy emerged as Champion by virtue of better tie break score (51) and Archan Chetan Anand satisfied for runner-up position (50.5).

Samith and Archan will be representing Karnataka in the forthcoming U-13 Nationals to be held at Ahmedabad from June 14.

Badminton: India beats Australia in Thomas Cup, Uber Cup final

Saina Nehwal

H.S. Prannoy

Bangkok, May 22- Indian men's and women's badminton teams dumped a lowly rated Australia 5-0 and 4-1 respectively on the second day of the prestigious Thomas and Uber Cup Final but the road to the quarterfinals still remain a difficult one for India.

While Indian women's team, led by Saina Nehwal, notched up a dominating 4-1 win against Australia in the second Group A match of the Uber Cup, the men's team, spearheaded by World No.9 H.S. Prannoy, blanked their Australia counterparts 5-0 in the Thomas Cup Final later in the day.

India's qualification for the knockout stage will now depend on Wednesday's match against top seeds and five-time champions Japan, who have fielded a full-strength squad.

On the other hand, things still look pretty gloomy for the men's team as they will have to beat heavyweights China on Tuesday to keep quarterfinals hopes alive.

CRICKET TALK

By R.S. Krishnaswamy

Unforgettable moments in the commentary box

I was a cricket commentator for almost 40 years and covered cricket in all types of format. I started at age 21 as a student commentator from Mysore and went on to successfully do commentary till 1997, when I officially retired.

My first match was Mysore Vs Hyderabad Ranji Trophy which was reduced to a one-day game because of rain (for which I was paid Rs.25 and the train fare). I chose cricket commentary for this article mainly because of the fantastic level of cricket broadcast which is coming up in the present day cricket.

Each and every one of the present day commentators are infinitely superior to those years ago (they are also paid huge sums of money on these activities). The unforgettable moments that I have chosen "do not have much cricket in it" but rare instances of cricketing commentary activities.

1. My first match fellow commentator was the great M.N. Pachu (M.N. Parthasarathy), a Professor of English at Maharaja's College who loved cricket more than anything else in the world. He never got married! He handed the mike over to me in that first match with the words, "handing over now to Thumbi." Thumbi is my nickname. The AIR (Programme Executive) protested to Pachu not to use nicknames in commentary for which the great Pachu responded "I can't help it, I know him only by that name ever since he was a child." Same Pachu had a tremendous disadvantage as he was unable to count the number of players in the team. Every time he would start with "4 men in the off, 7 men in the on" and successfully make a mess in the total above eleven and ask the scorers to count and let him know. This was a fantastic joke amongst the other commentators.

2. The other commentator of the same match was Safi Darashah, who was an IAS officer then (He also played Ranji Trophy cricket for Mysore State). He was one of the few delightful yet knowledgeable persons I shared the commentary box with. On that particular day he started off with "the fast bowler is coming up to bowl but the batsman withdraws his stance because sight screen is blocked." Later it was discovered that the Policeman had passed the sight screen just when the ball was being bowled. Safi came out with the reaction, "the view of sight screen is blocked by a wretched Policeman."

Safi and all of us forgot about the whole issue. But later we learnt that the Commissioner of Police, Bangalore, had telephoned the KSCA President asking for a public apology from the commentator for using the word "wretched Policeman."

Safi, the great sport that he was, immediately apologised stating additionally that he is an IAS officer, started his career as Superintendent of Police, so, he is doubly sorry for this wrong usage.

3. This third incident was during a Test match between Indian women's team and New Zealand women's team that was played in Chinnaswamy Stadium. When Shanta Rangaswamy was bowling to the New Zealand skipper Karen Hadlee, a ball hit Karen on her buttocks and went for 4 leg bye. The Kannada commentator gave a Kannada description of what had happened which came out sounding like a vulgar Kannada phrase. Immediately an AIR Executive asked him to stop. The Kannada commentator asked "idakke nanu enu helabeku (how else can I say this in Kannada)"

Later, after the match when I was interviewing Karen, I asked her about the leg-bye which had hit her hard, she said: "Yes, I was hit on my bum, it hurt, I got a boundary."

These are some of my unforgettable moments inside the commentary box.

'Yoga is not just an exercise but much more'

Pathanjali Yoga Shikshana Kendra Founder K. Keshavamurthy inaugurating the programme jointly organised by District Kannada Sahitya Parishat and Mysore Yoga Association to mark the death anniversary of Mahayogi Sri Raghavendra Swamiji of Malladihalli, at Rotary Hall on JLB Road in city on Sunday.

Mysuru, May 22 (SPN&US)- Marking the death anniversary of Mahayogi Sri Raghavendra Swamiji of Malladihalli, District Kannada Sahitya Parishat and Mysore Yoga Association together had organised a programme at Rotary Hall on JLB Road in city on Sunday.

Speaking on the occasion, Pathanjali Yoga Shikshana Kendra Founder K. Keshavamurthy opined that a disease-free society could be envisaged if everyone practises yoga.

He pointed out that the ancient yoga of India had become popular across the world and added that June 21 is being observed as World Yoga Day with approval from World Health Organisation (WHO). He recalled that Sri Raghavendra Swamiji had mastered all variants of yoga and had trained thousands of Yoga enthusiasts. However, he asserted that yoga was not just an exercise for the body but its advantage should be reflected through living style, confidence, behaviour and intelligence.

District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna, Mysore Yoga Association President Yoga Prakash, Suyog Hospital Head Dr. S.P. Yoganna and Dr. K. Krishnamurthy Research Foundation Director Dr. K. Leela Prakash were present.

I take the blame for my defeat: Sandesh Swamy

BJP defeated candidate Sandesh Swamy addressing poll introspection meet of NR unit party workers at a function hall on Shivaji Road in N.R. Mohalla yesterday as others look on.

Mysuru, May 22 (SPN&DM)- Narasimharaja (NR) constituency BJP defeated candidate Satheesh (Sandesh Swamy) has said that he himself will take responsibility for his defeat.

Speaking at a poll introspection meet of NR Unit party workers at a function hall on Shivaji Road in N.R. Mohalla here yesterday, Sandesh Swamy said that it was totally surprising that the BJP did not get a single vote in 60 polling booths of NR Constituency. But still he succeeded in polling 44,141 votes and came second in the polls, he said.

Highlighting the role of party workers in his campaign, he said that he had never seen such unity among party workers in the run up to the polls.

Asking the party workers not to feel disappointed over his loss, he said that he would make preparations for the next Assembly polls in right earnest.

BJP leader M.V. Ravishankar, in his address, called upon the party workers to get prepared for fighting the next Assembly polls right now.

Former District BJP President Hemant Kumar Gowda too addressed the meeting.

NR Block BJP President S. Murali, former Deputy Mayor Rathna Lakshman, leaders Dr. Anil Thomas, Giridhar and others were present.

C.S. Puttaraju quits as Mandya MP

New Delhi, May 22- Following his election as MLA from Melukote, Mandya JD(S) MP C.S. Puttaraju quit the Lok Sabha yesterday.

Puttaraju, who took oath as an MLA on May 19, yesterday flew along with Chief Minister-designate H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) to New Delhi and personally submitted his resignation letter to Lok Sabha Speaker Sumitra Mahajan.

Puttaraju was elected from Mandya Lok Sabha seat on a JD(S) ticket in the 2014 polls.

Guest Lecturers demand benefits

Mysuru, May 22 (MTY&DM)- The Karnataka Teachers Forum has demanded statutory benefits such as PF and ESI for Guest Lecturers serving in Government First Grade Colleges and University.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Forum President Sharath Raj alleged that the Education Department had failed to grant statutory benefits to Guest Lecturers.

Alleging that the Education Department was sitting on a Government Circular in this regard, he urged the Government to act immediately on their plea seeking statutory benefits.

He also warned of taking a legal recourse if the Government failed to meet the just demands of Guest Lecturers who have been serving for years without any benefits.

Guest Lecturers Malegowda, T.R. Ravi, N. Rajesh and others were present.

Ex-Serviceman dies of heart attack

Harish Kumar

Belur, May 22 (KS)- An ex-Serviceman, who had been to his relative's house in Sakleshpur, died at a hospital after suffering a heart attack on Sunday.

He was to report for duty at the Railways in a day

The deceased has been identified as T.S. Harish Kumar (38), a resident of Bikkodi in the taluk.

He leaves behind his wife, a 11-year-old son, a six-year-old daughter and a host of relatives and friends.

Harish Kumar had worked as a computer operator for 19 years before retiring from the Army. He was appointed at the Railway Department recently and was supposed to report to duty in a day or two.

Jewellery stolen from vanity bag in city bus

Mysuru, May 22 (KS)- Thieves have stolen a gold necklace which was kept in a vanity bag of a woman who was travelling in a city bus. The woman, who lost her necklace, has been identified as Sampoorna, a resident of Raghavendranagar in city.

On Sunday, Sampoorna, along with her friend Rekhavathi, had been to Krishnaraja and Sons, a jewellery store on Ashoka Road and purchased a gold necklace worth about Rs. 70,000.

They then proceeded on foot to City Bus Stand where they boarded Route No.161 to Raghavendranagar. After reaching Rekhavathi's house, Sampoorna opened the vanity bag only to find the necklace missing and immediately lodged a complaint at Nazarbad Police Station.

Nazarbad Police have registered a case in this regard and are investigating.

WORD OF THE DAY

Callipygian

Pronunciation: kalɪˈpɪdʒɪən

Meaning: Having shapely buttocks.
Origin: Callipygian is a Greek word, originally derived in the 1640's or 50's to describe a statute of Aphrodite. It is an adjective.
Callipygian is a perfectly lovely word. It is potentially useful, and is unique (there are no other single non-slang words for the state of having shapely buttocks in English). However, it merits inclusion in this list on the grounds that people rarely use it in a natural fashion; it is almost always used to illustrate the complexity of English vocabulary, rather than to describe a posterior. There is a very good reason for this: few people will appreciate your using this word to describe them, no matter how much you explain it. It is also but one of a list of words that English has for describing buttocks of a wide variety. We have obscure words to describe rumps that are fat (steatopygous), hairy (dasypygal), and skinny (pin buttock).

THE ODD WORD

Bruxism

Involuntary and habitual grinding of the teeth.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A Foregone Conclusion

Meaning: A decision made before the evidence for it is known. An inevitable conclusion or result.

Origin: From Shakespeare's Othello, 1604: Othello: But this denoted a foregone conclusion: 'Tis a shrewd doubt, though it be but a dream.
Othello – the brave, romantic, and sophisticated Moor of Venice – is cursed by his ensign, Lago, when he casted his evil spell upon Othello. Lago pretended that a certain Lieutenant Cassio's alleged dreams are of Othello's chaste wife Desdemona. Othello believed that Cassio's alleged dreams must re-enact the "forgone conclusion" of infidelity. In Othello's mind, this assumption promptly "thickens" into the evidence that Desdemona has cheated on him.
Examples: For people reading the Swedish press, however, the announcement was a foregone conclusion. But the vote outcome is not a foregone conclusion, and the Labour leader's urging of caution resonates with Britons wary of military intervention since intelligence was exaggerated in the run up to the Iraq War.
